

Nathan

Work experience-
Grounds maintenance

Has been part-taking in weekly travel training to local communities to build on communication and problem-solving skills.

Nathan told us:

“ I enjoy working outside where it is calm and quiet. ”

Nathan's aspirations for the future are to work outside with nature and birds and look after his own environment.

Nathan had been home educated when he was younger, his parents supported him to learn at home. This meant that when When Nathan came to college, new social interactions were a challenge for him at first.

Strategies were inputted to support Nathan across his time at college to build positive relationships with his peers. Nathan is now in his final year of college and appears happy and engaged in his sessions, he appears to recognise and follow his strategies independently. Nathan is now working towards supported employment and has been engaging in work experience weekly at one of our working partners.

Employer:

“ Nathan has been working on clearing the grounds at the charity. He is becoming more confident as each week goes by. ”
